Outstanding Students . . .

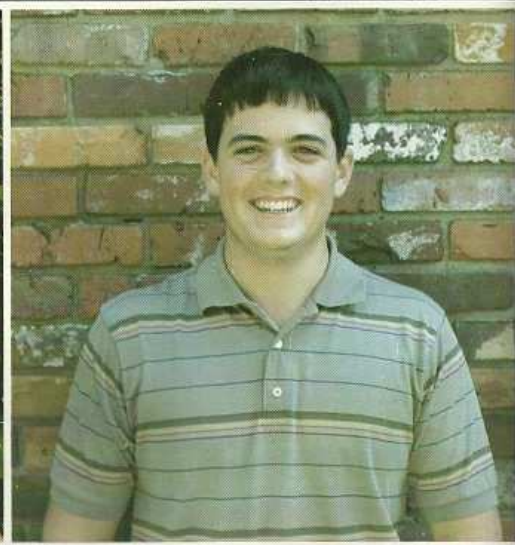

David Parks, a senior, is the son of Ronnie and Kay Parks. David plans to attend LC and become basketball and baseball coach.

Sharmon Patrick, a senior, is the daughter of Ronnie and Evelyn Scarborough. Sharmon plans to attend NLU and major in business administration.

Jennifer McKinnie, a freshman, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coye Hodge. Jennifer plans to attend NLU and become a pharmacist.

Audie Maxey, a sophomore, is the son of Buster and Ann Maxey. Audie plans to attend LA Tech and become a chemical engineer.

Look to the Future!

Shae Walk, a senior, is the daughter of Estle and Dennis Cash. Shae plans to attend NLU and major in business administration.

Kevin Day, a junior, is the son of Jimmie and Donald Day. Kevin plans to work in Washington, DC this summer as Congressman Jerry Huckaby's page and later become a politician.

Mike Hill, a junior, is the son of Renate and Billy Hill. Mike plans to attend NLU and major in aviation.

Tina Turner, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Turner. Tina plans to attend ASU and become an RN.

Linville High was founded in 1907 on the present spot. It was only a two-room building at the time. In 1922 the old wing of the high school was built. The old gym was built in 1939.

We are very proud to sport a new elementary building, as well as a new gym. The elementary building was completed in December of 1983. The gym should be completed in November of 1984.

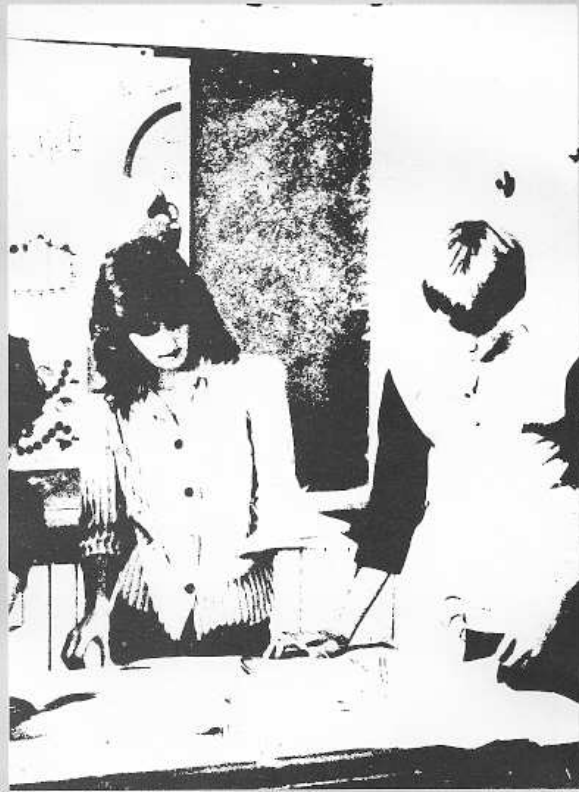

These pictures are of the old gym, the old science building, the old school, and the new gym and elementary wing. We hope our school continues to grow as it has in the last 90 years.

We have a fine group of young ladies, the Explorers, participating in many after school activities. This summer Explorer Post #33 will attend North Monroe Community Hospital to serve as candy strippers and their National Jamboree in June, 1985.

Exploring presents an opportunity for participants to express themselves, work together, and have fun. The Post is active in areas like camping, cooking, hiking, bowling, skating, traveling the seeing movies.

Our explorers would also like to thank Mrs. Alline Day, for her time and patience with us.

Explorer Post 33

Making the Best better! Linville 4-H'ers use this motto to its fullest to be successful as a club and also successful as individuals. Both the Junior and Senior clubs have been named Outstanding Clubs in Union Parish for the 1983-84 year and hope to repeat this year. Kevin Day, the winner of a Citizenship trip to Washington, D.C., and Michelle Scarborough, a Memphis, Tennessee trip winner, are two prime examples of Linville's individual's success. We're doing our best . . . to make Best better.

A year of change! The 1984-85 Linville Hornets went through numerous changes. The changing of coaches in the district season combined with the loss of many players and the addition of a few brought about different styles of play. A total of 5 different line-up changes showed a lack of consistency, but never lacked poise.

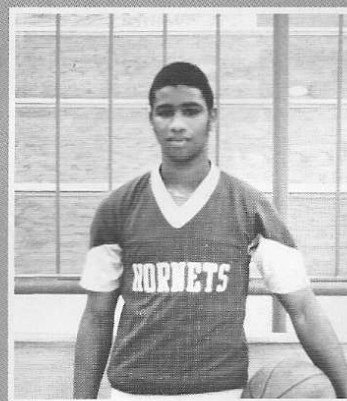

Cedric Newton — Sr.
Guard — Forward

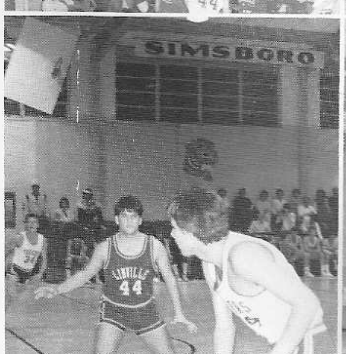

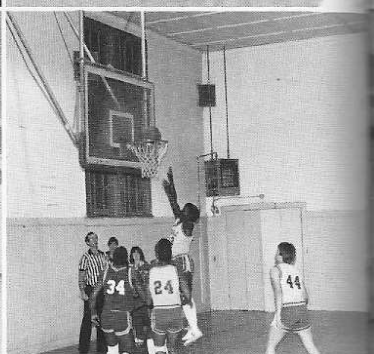

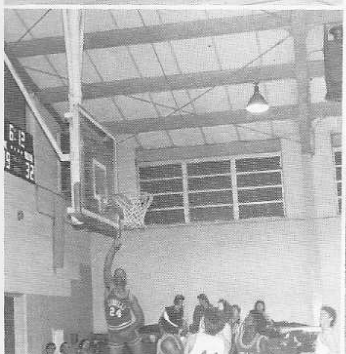

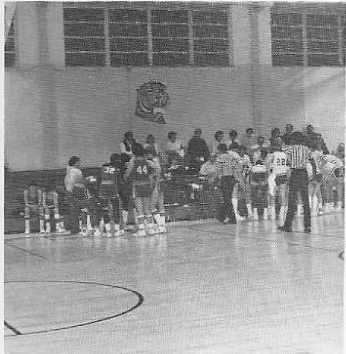

The loss of 2 seniors, Cedric and Tim Newton, will hurt, but the Hornets are really excited about the upcoming year. A new classification, district and starting line-up will be awaiting the Hornet's next year. Looking to the future? Look Out! The mighty Hornets are coming out!

Top to Bottom: Andrea Frazier, Patricia Frazier, Michelle Scarborough, Jamie McKinnie, Tina Turner, Tabatha Woods, Karen Corbin, Carman Patrick, Angela Wheeler.

This year we experienced many growing pains. There were ten players on the team and only four of those had previous experience. We were plagued by many injuries during the entire season losing Patricia Frazier, a starting forward, in December due to a knee injury. Yet with all these strikes against us, we feel that the year gave us a chance to improve in our techniques and ability. Our team is a young team and so with this years experience behind us, we look forward to next year's season in a new gymnasium with high hopes and new goals. Also, I would like to encourage every student to consider participating in our athletic program and help us to make next year a winning season for Linville.

A newly formed group of young ladies known as the 1984-85 Linville Cheerleaders, brought a new meaning to the word "spirit." As these young ladies cheered on the Hornets, they showed a lot of character and above all "CLASS." Presenting you the 1984-85 Cheerleaders: (left) Cindy Hobson, (opp. page, l-r) Kristi Williams, Tonya Ekers, Amy Slater, Kelly Gunter, Cathy Thomas, and Ruth Ann Day.
